

AstroIDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador Dali

Introduction

The following pages contain a brief evaluation of key elements of your birth chart, although it is by no means complete. Astrology can reveal many things about a person's life and personality, and you could study your chart for a lifetime without knowing the answers to all of your questions. The descriptions that follow will give you a "thumbnail" introduction to yourself through astrology.

In interpreting your chart, this report considers the sign of the planets and the north node in your chart, as well as their house placements. It also describes the sign of the Ascendant and the strongest aspects between the planets.

You may note that some of the following descriptions appear to contradict each other--and indeed we are all walking bundles of contradiction. If you examine yourself carefully, you will probably realize that you do in fact possess the qualities of both conflicting descriptions. Even though some parts of the reading may seem to clash, you will see that certain themes are repeated throughout the following pages. These are the ones that will become major issues in your life.

The readings stress that you are the ultimate decider of your fate. The stars may indicate the hand you were dealt at birth, but it is up to you to play that hand well enough to achieve your goals. Also, bear in mind that every "bad" aspect of a chart also has a "good" side. How it is expressed is really up to you. We tend to work at expressing ourselves more positively most of the time and only lapse into the negative behavior described when depressed, angry or scared. Or it is possible that some aspects may better describe your personality or behavior earlier in life. They may seem alien now because you have already worked through them.

A "Strength" number precedes each aspect description; this number takes into account how exact the aspect is, whether the aspect is a major or minor one, and whether an aspecting planet is close to one of the four chart angles. The higher the Strength, the more you are likely to feel the aspect and to act it out in your life.

Planets in Signs and Houses

Cancer Ascendant

No matter what sign your Sun is in, Cancer Rising indicates that you are sensitive, cautious and have a strong need for security. You love the water, and if possible you will probably live near a river, lake or stream. No matter what your sex, you are domestic and maternal, and your home life is the most important element in your life. Since you do not crave the spotlight and can be cautious to the point of paranoia, you may have difficulty achieving your material goals in life. Your greatest success and personal satisfaction can be found in an occupation requiring you to deal with the public and to help others.

You have a phenomenal memory and never forget a hurt. Your emotions are very sensitive, so you are overly cautious in matters of the heart. For your peace of mind you require a peaceful and harmonious environment, and will react emotionally to any situation that is stressful or upsetting. You become sentimentally attached to mementos and other items of nostalgia, and will never part with possessions that commemorate past memories.

Physically, your problem areas are your stomach, digestive system, skin, chest and breast. Ulcers are a common problem with Cancer Rising. Your emotional state strongly affects your health, and genuine TLC is the best preventive measure you can take.

In appearance you are probably of short to medium height and have a wide chest (or a full bosom). Your face is full and round (and usually beautiful), and your eyes are full-lidded and may be green. Your hands and feet are proportionately smaller than the rest of you. As you age, be careful to watch your weight, especially around the middle.

AstroDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador Dali

Sun in Taurus

*"I shall sit here," he said,
"on and off, for days and days."
--Lewis Carroll*

Natives of the sign Taurus are well known for their stubbornness. Like their symbol, the Bull, they are slow to anger but can be quite violent when aroused. Then after they've kicked up their heels and charged at you a few times, they go back to grazing peacefully in the pasture. Taurus jealously guards his or her tranquil environment and will brook no interference.

Since it is an earth sign, Taurus natives usually have their feet planted firmly on terra firma. They are practical and stable people, but they will not hesitate to spend money extravagantly on the finer things in life and will insist on the best of everything. They appreciate art objects, good music, fine wines and beautiful surroundings and are willing to pay for them. Since Taurus is ruled by Venus, it is also the sign of love. Taureans are romantic, affectionate and sensuous, and they are fiercely protective of their mates.

It is not easy for Taureans to undergo radical change in their lives because they usually resist. But once they decide to change directions, they adapt very well to their newfound goal and can apply themselves effectively. One of the major lessons that Taureans must learn is to cooperate with the changes taking place in their lives rather than fighting them.

Many Taureans go on to succeed in life, partly because this is the only way they can live the lifestyle they prefer. They are not likely to be impulsive gamblers in life but instead plan their endeavors well. Most Taureans are social animals and get along well with most others. Why not? They are naturally graceful, charming and interesting people.

Sun in the Eleventh House

An active social life is important to you, and you enjoy being with your many varied friends. Others will often see you as a leader and will follow your example. You work well in groups, especially those which are working for a good cause. You are idealistic about the future and expect to achieve your highest goals in life. You would be satisfied with nothing less.

You care a great deal for those closest to you. Although you will have many friends, there will only be a select few in your inner circle. You are sincere, loyal, and basically unselfish in your dealings with others. Others like being around you because you are considerate of their feelings and needs.

In affairs of the heart it is relatively easy for you to find partners. You tend to bring out the best in your lover, encouraging them to take better care of themselves. This is also true in your surroundings -- you are always trying to improve the quality of life around you. It is important that any lover you choose be able to keep up with your social pace. You would not be happy for long with a wallflower.

Moon in Aries

Individual freedom and self-expression are important to you, and you are full of new ideas. However, although you may be good at working up enthusiasm in others to carry your ideas through, you often lack the patience and perseverance to carry through on a project alone. You are likely to promise a great deal and then not be able to deliver when the time arrives.

In your career you are attracted to positions of authority, and you often achieve them. Be sure you're not all talk and no action, or you will find yourself in a position that you are not qualified for. Pay close attention to details and learn to apply yourself to one specific path and not get distracted along the way. Otherwise you may find that you have to struggle to hold onto a high position in life once you have achieved it.

Moon in Aries people are also known for their fiery tempers, although you quickly get over it. Be careful that you don't become self-centered and conceited in your domestic life. If you are not able to succeed in your chosen career, you may substitute repeated sexual "conquests." Your love life is not likely to be very stable. Try to curb your impulsiveness and consider your partner's needs in love relationships.

AstroIDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador Dali

You have many friends, and they find your enthusiasm for life contagious. You are usually the life of the party, and nothing seems to keep you down for very long. Although you may be short on patience and prudence, you have lots of pride and self-esteem.

Moon in the Ninth House

You constantly seek to broaden your horizons and are a compulsive traveler. If you are forced to stay in one place too long you become bored and restless. Education is another way you could expand your mind. You look for a higher meaning behind everything that happens to you.

Although you appreciate logic and higher learning, you rely on your emotions to guide you through life. Therefore, you may prefer poetry and novels to nonfiction books. The things that affect you most strongly are those which appeal to your emotions.

With this Moon placement you must learn to let go of values and attitudes you picked up early in life. You tend to retain knowledge and habits even when they become outdated. Don't be limited by values that were instilled in you during childhood. They may no longer be valid.

In your social life you are attracted to others who share your spiritual and philosophical outlook on life. You need a partner who will encourage you to continually learn and grow. A restrictive or possessive partner would be unbearable for you.

Mercury in Taurus

Although it may take you longer than others to master a concept, once you have done so it becomes a permanent part of you. You have many interests and want to absorb every detail you can about them all. While you may read theories in books, you will learn best by actually applying them in material form. You appreciate good craftsmanship and have the patience to acquire such skills yourself. Although you appreciate beauty for its own sake, you always look for a practical application for everything.

With Mercury in Taurus you are highly intuitive, yet intellectually grounded. You appreciate art, romance and the finer things in life, and you will share your good fortune with loved ones. Being sight-oriented, you get more enjoyment from reading a book than listening to a lecture. You are not a good listener and have a talent for tuning out unwanted and intrusive sounds as if they didn't exist. It is difficult for you to learn to put the needs of others before your own. If this is the case, one of your greatest lessons in this life will be to overcome self-absorption.

With your shrewd business mind and common sense, you could be a good manager. Your mind is strong enough to endure challenges, and you are stubborn enough to insist that regulations be followed to the letter. Since you love to accumulate material possessions, you should resist the temptation to be greedy. You express affection for your partner in a touching and loving manner.

Mercury in the Eleventh House

You enjoy associating with friends who are as clever and intellectually stimulating as you are. You are a humanitarian thinker and recognize that society must consider the needs of all its members. Since you work well with groups, you are a valuable team member. You try to get along with everyone and are probably well known and respected in your neighborhood.

Venus in Taurus

With Venus in Taurus (the sign it rules), you are very affectionate and loyal with your friends and lovers. You enjoy the finer things in life, and you also enjoy showering your loved ones with gifts. Those who love you appreciate your encouragement and support. Although some may consider you stubborn, you would prefer to call yourself "persistent."

You have very clear opinions as to what is true art, and you are probably artistically inclined yourself. You also enjoy getting out into nature to relax and drink in her natural beauty. Since you do prefer to have things your way, you tend to put forth the effort required to succeed. With Venus in Taurus, chances are your most treasured material possessions will be the product of your hard work.

You are an earthy lover and enjoy indulging in the physical pleasures of your relationships. The best way to win your heart is to lavish you with affection and gifts. You appreciate the finer things in life and require a comfortable home environment. This placement of Venus also makes you determined (maybe even stubborn) and slow to arouse (whether in anger or in sex).

It is important that your partner be consistent and reliable. You admire inner strength in a lover; it is important that your mate love you without leaning on you or clinging to you. You tend to expect near perfection in your partners and should try to remember that no one is perfect--not even you. Your sexual experiences can be enhanced by a pleasing, romantic setting.

Venus in the Tenth House

You are highly ambitious, and you will work hard to achieve success in your career. While it is true you want the advantages of material success, you also seek the approval and respect of your neighbors and peers. You have a talent for pleasing others with your voice through public speaking or singing. You tend to form emotional attachments with people you meet through your career.

Mars in Taurus

You are very persistent and patient when striving toward your goals. This is largely because you are too stubborn to give up. You also have powerful creative abilities and perhaps have developed a craft.

Money and other material possessions are important to you, and you prefer to surround yourself with the best quality you can find. One of the lessons of this placement is to realize that intangible things also have great value. Another lesson is to learn to share the great bounty that you acquire for yourself.

You enjoy a great deal of sensual contact with your partner and need someone who is likewise predisposed to being "touchy- feely." You need secure and stable relationships but need to avoid getting stuck in a rut. At times you can be very stubborn and even may become jealous and possessive. You show your love through affection and by lavishing your partner with gifts, especially those you make with your own hands.

In sexual encounters you are slow to become aroused but then can exercise a great deal of endurance in lovemaking. You seek a long-term relationship which will provide you with a constant source of love and sexual stimulation. Ups and downs in relationships can be upsetting to you.

Mars in the Eleventh House

You enjoy getting together with friends to share a sport or other physical activity. You pursue friends who are independent and who have goals similar to yours. Because you are sometimes intolerant of beliefs which are different from yours, you are not the easiest person to relate to. Karmically, your circle of friends contains many enemies from past lives with whom you must learn to cooperate.

Jupiter in Aries

You have an over-abundance of energy and physical stamina, and you enjoy an active lifestyle (although you don't always think things through before acting). With your optimistic lifestyle, you take on challenges others would avoid because you believe you cannot fail. You can inspire others with your bubbly enthusiasm. You don't mind hard work, but you don't like taking orders. For this reason, persons with Jupiter in Aries are often self-employed.

Jupiter in the Tenth House

You are highly ambitious and have the self-discipline required to achieve success in your chosen career. One or both of your parents instilled in you a strong confidence in your own abilities, and this will help you to succeed in life. You seek the honor and respect of your peers and community, and you feel a strong sense of responsibility toward society as a whole.

Saturn in Aquarius

You have tremendous self-discipline and stamina, and you do not waste your energy on needless tasks. When making plans, you are very practical and careful to be well prepared. Sometimes your goals may seem so important to you that you overlook others' needs to achieve their goals as well. Be tolerant and forgiving of others, even if they are not as "together" as you are. You have a keenly developed mind; your challenge in this lifetime is to develop good relations with others.

Saturn in the Eighth House

You are patient, thrifty and hard working, and you enjoy accumulating material wealth. Using your resources responsibly, rather than as a means to control others, is one of the lessons of this Saturn placement. You have a strong sexual nature, but you may tend to neglect your social and sexual gratification in order to concentrate on acquiring greater wealth.

Uranus in Sagittarius

(1981-1988)

You have a strong curiosity about foreign lands and cultures, and you would find travel to be very mind-expanding. With your strong need to express yourself in your own unique way, you are a revolutionary thinker who could inspire others to bring about needed changes. You approach life philosophically and with great optimism, and you are constantly seeking spiritual enlightenment and evolution.

Uranus in the Sixth House

You are restless and impatient, and this can result in nervous tension if you are not careful. You are a good worker and invent clever shortcuts on the job. Just be careful you don't leave out important details in your haste to get the job done. You will be happiest as your own boss or in a position where you call the shots, and you prefer a job which is unusual and definitely not routine.

Neptune in Cancer

(1901-1914)

You have strong feelings regarding your home and family, and especially your mother. You are very compassionate and are willing to serve others without expecting to be rewarded. Avoid a tendency to overindulge in food, drink, drugs or sex as a means of escaping unpleasant realities.

Neptune in the Twelfth House

You are highly sympathetic and understanding toward others. Although you may not be aware of it, you have strong psychic abilities. With your great compassion and desire to serve others, you would gain great satisfaction from working in the healing professions. Because you are so sensitive, you should avoid taking on the problems of others; doing so can result in physical illness or depression.

Pluto in Gemini

(1882-1914)

Your generation gave birth to mass media and worldwide communication. Newspapers, phonographs and telephones became popular. Travel also improved through such inventions as automobiles and airplanes. You are highly inventive and have a strong desire to satisfy your insatiable curiosity.

Pluto in the Twelfth House

With your strong interest in puzzles and mysteries, you are a natural born investigator or researcher. You may hold yourself back or try to hide parts of yourself from others because you fear disapproval, but this only makes them more suspicious of you. You have a strong desire to serve the less fortunate members of society. If Pluto is afflicted, avoid a tendency toward self-pity and depression.

Aries Midheaven

You will achieve your greatest success in life through competition, self-assertion, and your ability to start new activities. Not one to sit on the sidelines, your career shows your need for pioneering activities, combat, challenge, and accomplishment. You are a strong individual who can carry more than your share of the load. You are self-directed and prefer to work independently.

You can throw fresh light on your chosen career field because you are so honest and direct. Less adventuresome souls benefit from and continue the projects that you start. One drawback of this placement is that (unless Virgo is rising) you find it difficult to perform routine tasks for long, especially if doing so does not bring the affection or praise that you desire. If you are not mature, you may surprise others by resorting to brute force to get your own way. Action for its own sake will exhaust you and lead nowhere. When you are indecisive, actively search out the truth.

Occupations consistent with your active, leading style of work include director, instructor, superintendent, manager, inventor, pioneering writer, entrepreneur, athlete, dancer, actor, laborer, driver, policeman, security guard, or the military. For the most personal career guide, also consider the nature of any planets which fall in the 10th house or conjoin the Midheaven, the sign and house placements of Mars, ruler of the Midheaven, and any aspects which other planets make to the Midheaven.

Planets in Aspect

Moon conjunct Midheaven (Strength: 8.70)

You have been greatly influenced by people and events from your early life, especially by your mother. Since you depend on emotional support from her, you will be more likely to succeed if your relationship with your mother is a good one. Otherwise, you may have difficulty achieving your goals due to psychological hangups such as insecurity and lack of self-confidence. You are a creature of habit, so attitudes which you form early in life are likely to stick with you and will be difficult to change.

It is likely that you will receive a great deal of help and encouragement from women, especially female relatives. Avoid a tendency to become lazy and expect the world to provide for your needs. If you can combine the assistance from others with some plain old-fashioned hard work and good planning, you will have a greater chance for success.

With your extreme sensitivity to the feelings of others, you could succeed in jobs requiring a great deal of human contact. You would gain the most satisfaction from a career which allows you to be sympathetic, nurturing and caring toward others, such as a profession in food services or in providing products for the home. Since you are highly intuitive, you could also excel in public relations or advertising. You may also travel a great deal in connection with your profession.

Moon square Neptune (Strength: 7.54)

Sometimes it is difficult for you to tell the difference between reality and fantasy. When faced with an unpleasant reality, you may change the facts to make them more acceptable to you rather than deal with the situation. You have perfected the art of escapism, and you use this ploy frequently to get away from responsibilities and unpleasant circumstances.

You are extremely sensitive and care a great deal for the underprivileged members of society. In fact, you could accomplish a great deal through organizations dedicated to helping such people. But first you have to be courageous enough to look the problem straight in the eyes instead of pretending it's not there. This may be difficult for you, but it would contribute a great deal to your personal growth.

It is not easy for you to take risks, and this is one of your greatest barriers to success. Education is very necessary for you if you are to succeed--not just because of what you'll learn from books, but because of what you'll learn about human nature. This will help you to better understand yourself and others.

In your career, be careful that you can trust all professional partners you may have. Do not be tempted to indulge in shady enterprises. Others who are in competition with you would love to be able to sling mud at your reputation. Don't bite off more than you can chew; be patient and concentrate on goals that are more reasonable and short-range.

Be careful to be open with friends and lovers. Don't let little misunderstandings grow into huge problems. Be truthful with others and demand that they be so with you. It is better to know where you stand than to be blissfully ignorant. Don't let your fear of the unknown keep you from communicating your needs and learning of the needs of others.

AstroIDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador DaliSun square Saturn (Strength: 6.53)

You have a low opinion of your own self-worth which can be traced back to childhood conditioning. Rejection is a constant fear of yours, and for this reason success in your life will not come easy. If you want to have success, you must risk failure and rejection. As you mature, you will learn to love yourself more and to be less defensive in your dealings with others.

Later in life your lack of self-confidence can turn to self-assurance. You eventually grow out of your earlier tendency to assume that you were imposing on others by being around them. Since you have a tendency to come on strong, you will learn to curb that impulsiveness and connect with people at their own level of intensity.

In terms of a career, you would do well as a teacher, conservationist, or in management. You are able to practically apply your great resources of knowledge to get any job done thoroughly. As you develop your own occupational excellence, you will learn to love yourself more and to notice that many others do too--and have all along. They understand you more than they think they do, because after all they are also human and have their own fears and anxieties.

You need an understanding mate who can accept and love you as you are. He or she should believe in you and recognize your hidden potentials. This type of mate will help you bring out your buried treasure and express yourself creatively. Be sure to keep a positive, optimistic outlook on life. This makes everything else run more smoothly.

Moon square Uranus (Strength: 5.45)

You can be very impulsive emotionally. Your temper is easily sparked, and you can explode at those you love most. You must learn to control your temper, and face the fact that you cannot always have things your way. You may appear emotionally erratic to others.

You are quite talented and could be a good: teacher, politician, writer, or researcher. You are a believer in equal rights and may defy authority when it does not appear to be honoring someone's rights.

You must be willing to meet your partner halfway for marriage to work. You believe that marriage means one partner being dominant over the other. Yet you really need an egalitarian relationship. You must convince yourself that this is possible before you can achieve it.

AstroDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador Dali

You can be impatient and impulsive, and therefore may seem "accident prone." You may not have been allowed to assert your will as a child. So you tend to defy authority by rejecting the responsibility that it imposes. You are a rebel at heart.

Neptune square Midheaven (Strength: 5.16)

You are a highly sensitive person, and you tend to take on the feelings of those around you as though they were your own. For this reason, it is important that you surround yourself with positive, up-beat people. Otherwise, you could suffer feelings of anger, despair or depression, although you don't understand why.

Because you lack self-confidence, you tend to shy away from projects that seem too difficult. It's easier for you to avoid challenging situations altogether rather than to risk failure. The more skills you master, the more willing you will be to try new things. No one is born knowing everything, and we all make mistakes. Instead of seeing this as a failure, consider it a lesson and try to learn something from it.

In your profession, you admire others who seem to be more capable or accomplished than you. Instead of over-idealizing these people, use their example to inspire you to improve your own skills. If you ask them, they'll surely tell you that they stumbled and fell many times on their way to the top. Like them, you must learn to get up, dust yourself off, and keep going.

Saturn trine Pluto (Strength: 4.81)

You have the ability to succeed in whatever you undertake because of your persistence, determination and talent for self-discipline. At the very least you will give it your best shot, and you are very thorough in your work. You would be a very good supervisor; you take everyone's feelings and needs into consideration when making important decisions. You would be especially adept at handling the resources of a large organization.

Your powers of concentration enable you to manage your affairs quite well. Your thinking is very organized and practical, and you have a strong sense of duty. You accept responsibilities well, knowing that what you do contributes to the good (or bad) of all of society. In order to be in a position to bring about positive change, you may seek employment in government. In such a job you could help to reduce waste and improve efficiency, and somehow still manage to work within the rigid governmental structure to bring about positive changes for the benefit of the less fortunate among us.

Your determination and self-confidence can be contagious; children especially benefit from your influence. You have no patience for anyone (at any age) who will give up, saying "I can't do it" without really trying, and you will not accept such an attitude from your children. Young people are inspired by your social consciousness and may even be encouraged to get more involved in what's going on in the world around them.

This aspect gives you a talent for getting to the bottom of problems; you would be especially good at projects involving extensive research. You have much to offer to humankind -- you can see what's right and what's wrong with society without being overly critical and can work toward constructive change.

Mercury conjunct Mars (Strength: 4.29)

You have an extremely active mind and always seem hungry for new information. Although you have a multitude of incredible creative ideas and may begin many projects, you rarely complete them. You don't have the patience to devote to it; there are too many other things to initiate. It is difficult to win an argument with you because you have very strong opinions and are well informed on your subjects.

With your high level of energy, you can excel at anything which you truly enjoy doing and can stick with. You are good at expressing your thoughts, so you may enjoy communications, writing, journalism, drama, teaching, law, or public relations. In any profession, you will need to cultivate a little patience and humility. Don't become known as a "know- it-all." Be willing to be as active a listener as you are a talker.

Try to be considerate of others and hear their thoughts out without interrupting, no matter how excited or enthusiastic you are. Your mind is racing faster than the speed of light, and this can have a dizzying effect on others. It can cause you to suffer physically because of the strain it places on your nervous system.

Another of the lessons of this aspect is to learn to be willing to admit you are wrong. It is not easy for you to say, "I am sorry," and this makes it difficult for those close to you to forgive your transgressions. If you are rejected by someone you love, you don't let it destroy your life. You just look for someone else who will be "better" for you, not realizing that you probably brought the rejection on yourself. While this prevents you from having to be "wrong" or to make a "mistake," it also prevents you from learning from your experiences and results in your making the same mistake again in the next relationship.

You seem to enjoy "debating" with your lover--even more so than with strangers. Just be sure your partner agrees with you and does not take your mental exercise too personally. This can lead to defensiveness on their part and a widening of the distance between you.

Mercury sextile Ascendant (Strength: 3.78)

You have a sharp wit and an intense curiosity. Communication comes easily for you, and you are an adept conversationalist. You are well read and therefore can speak with authority on many subjects. In your dealings with others you approach situations from an intellectual rather than emotional perspective. With your talent for detached observation and your way with words, you would also be an excellent writer.

With your natural ability at communication, you would do well in any career which would allow you to use this talent. Since you also enjoy relating to people, you would enjoy a job which allows you to have contact with the public. You are a never-ending source of new and clever ideas, and this too can help you in your career. Just be sure you don't share your ingenious ideas with supervisors who will take the credit or see your sharp mind as a threat to their position.

You are a master at combining verbal language with subtle body signs to further convey your meaning. It may take your partner a while to learn to read your subtlest communications, but once you are familiar with each other you will be able to communicate very well, even without words. You are attracted to others primarily through their minds; if they measure up intellectually, then you get to know the rest of them.

Sun conjunct Mercury (Strength: 3.75)

You have very strong opinions and don't hesitate to state them without being asked. This can be irritating to people, especially since you tend to dismiss their own opinions as unimportant. You usually have the first and last word in any discussion. In your haste to be first, you may make decisions prematurely. This means you may have to retract what you've said later, and this is not easy for you. You don't like to admit you were wrong and can be very self-centered.

You are creative and could be a good leader if you would take the time to make good decisions. You need to take others' needs into consideration and to learn a little humility. At times you can be something of a "know-it-all," which can be very annoying to others. Try to cultivate some objectivity.

Communication comes naturally for you, and you can express yourself articulately. You love to give orders but may become frustrated if they are not followed. You are not above intimidating others to get their support. Express this aspect more positively by inspiring rather than threatening others. Your enthusiasm can be infectious, and you can work well with the public. You are good at making and carrying out plans.

AstroDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador Dali

In your love life, be careful of your tendency to misinterpret your partner's signals. Try to see yourself through their eyes during times of misunderstanding. Your partner should be able to take your directness and lack of diplomacy. You speak straight from the heart.

Venus sextile Neptune (Strength: 3.43)

You are highly creative and can use your active imagination to express yourself in a form that is pleasing and readily accepted by others. Therefore, your choice of possible occupations varies widely. In addition to your artistic abilities, you have a knack for solving others' problems. You would do well in healing professions, as a mediator in conflict management, or as a member of an organization dedicated to society as a whole. You would also excel in the creative arts: music, art, writing, etc.

You are impatient with the living conditions of those who live on the seedier side of society, and you strive to make your own surroundings as pleasant as possible. In your love life you tend to be romantic and idealistic. Your mate or lover will probably share your appreciation of the finer things in life.

In the long-run, you are looking for a soul-mate rather than just a bed mate. You tend to throw yourself into relationships, and this ends up in disappointment. Try to develop a healthy sense of good judgment and discrimination in your love life. Take the time to get to know a new love before giving him or her your heart.

Mercury square Saturn (Strength: 3.21)

Your childhood conditioning inhibits your efforts to exploit your imaginative potential. Your thinking is somewhat traditional, and it may be difficult for you adapt to changing trends and new ideas. Change does not come easy for you because of your inner insecurities, and your opinions can seem rather narrow-minded to others.

You were probably a slow learner in school and resented having to maintain good grades. It's not that you are academically incapable, you are just somewhat lazy mentally. If it takes more than minimal effort to complete a task, you become depressed. This results in lack of enthusiasm in exploring your creative potential. You don't like competition because of your own lack of confidence in your abilities. Try to keep pace with the many changes taking place in the world around you; this is the only way you will make progress.

If you can brush aside the above negative feelings, you can make plans to carry out your ideas. Instead of fearing defeat, be brave enough to accept reality. Instead of moping about how you can't do something, make changes so that you can. Use the lessons of your past to help you in the future instead of dwelling on regrets over "spilt milk." If you can maintain a positive attitude and learn to accept change, you could be successful in education, politics, science, natural resource conservation, government service or architecture.

Be sure you read all the fine print in any legal documents that you sign; you can become quite vengeful if you are crossed. You resent authority on the job and can become very bitter if you are passed over for a promotion you think you deserve. If this should happen to you, look again at yourself and make sure your performance is up to snuff instead of whining over sour grapes. A positive attitude will get you much further in life.

In relationships you may have difficulty communicating your needs to your partner. This is not because you lack verbal skills, but because you are afraid your partner will not approve of your requests. Resist any temptation to nag your lover. Instead, try some constructive criticism--and you need deliver your comments only once.

Sun sextile Ascendant (Strength: 2.97)

Your natural charm and wit make it easy for you to win friends and influence people. You have highly developed social skills and find it easy to relate to others. Your sense of self-confidence allows you to feel comfortable in the presence of others. Since you will retain a youthful attitude throughout your life, you will have friends of all ages. Many of your business connections will begin as social contacts. You also have a talent for connecting people with common interests for the benefit of all.

Because of your commanding presence, others will usually listen when you speak. You are a lively conversationalist, and others appreciate your keen sense of humor. With your easygoing nature, people sometimes do special favors for you because they feel confident that you are not trying to be manipulative and demanding. You are very honest and outspoken in your dealings with others, and you expect the same in return. Anyone who deceives you can expect to be eliminated from your life with little or no chance of redemption.

In your career you are highly creative and are an unending source of new ideas. This can make you a valuable employee, but it can also threaten others (including your superiors) who are not so talented. You do not need to excel when working with a group but rather blend your energy harmoniously with other group members. You easily become bored and restless and would enjoy travel as a break from the routine.

Saturn inconjunct Ascendant (Strength: 2.44)

Unless you are careful, you can become a living example of the phrase, "all work, no play." While your parents may have taught you that work was more important than play, you also must recognize the therapeutic effects of recreation. Overworking yourself will only result in ill health, which can make you incapable of working at all. Remind yourself not to be so serious all the time. For you laughter is sometimes the best medicine.

You prefer to plan everything in advance with careful attention to every detail. You have a deep lack of self-confidence and a persistent fear of failure. For this reason you want to proceed with caution and continually strive for excellence in everything you do. Since you learn from your mistakes, you rarely have to make the same one twice. You waste as little time and energy as possible.

Since you have a strong sense of right and wrong, you usually are truthful in your dealings with others. You appear to others to be very self-reliant and stable, so you may attract lovers who will want to lean on you for support. You seek a long-term relationship and would not be satisfied with a partner who only wanted a superficial affair.

Uranus square Midheaven (Strength: 2.22)

You are a very independent thinker, and you will vigorously rebel against anyone who tells you what to do. In fact, if someone pushes you to the right, you are determined to go to the left just to show them they can't push you around. For this reason, you've had continuing problems with authority figures in your life (beginning with your parents and teachers).

You are highly intolerant of power abusers, and you're very quick to let them know it. Just remember, there are some people in positions of authority who are not on a power trip. Be careful not to alienate those who could be of assistance to you. It will surely hurt you more than it hurts them.

In your discussions with others, be willing to believe that they may know something you don't. Remember, only the most foolish person believes they know everything. Keep an open mind, and you might learn something.

Mars sextile Ascendant (Strength: 2.06)

You approach life with a great deal of enthusiasm. With your overabundance of nervous energy you become restless if you're not constantly on the move. Your tremendous creativity can be enhanced by developing a little self-discipline in asserting yourself. It would also help for you to learn the art of compromise. You usually state your opinions forcefully and then demand that others go along with you. This is not the best way to win friends and influence people.

In your career you will always do more work than is asked of you, and for this reason you gain the respect of your supervisors. You need a challenging job which allows you to continuously prove to others (and to yourself) that you are competent. You readily take on new responsibilities even without being asked to do so.

You enjoy being physically active and appreciate a partner who can keep up with you. Even though you can be quite stubborn and seldom "give in" once you have dug in your heels, you have a strong sense of fairness and will fight to correct injustice when you see it. You enjoy your independence and will vigorously resist any attempts to restrict your actions. Because you are very comfortable with your sexuality, you can help your partner overcome any sexual hangups they may have.

Sun conjunct Mars (Strength: 2.03)

You are very strong-willed and are not likely to compromise in your relationships with others. You simply must express yourself and are not willing to "hide your light under a bushel" for anyone or anything. Others may see you as arrogant or egocentric, and indeed this aspect can indicate such a tendency. Certainly you are self-confident and could use this drive and ambition to get where you want to go.

This aspect indicates that you have great inner strength, and usually great physical strength as well. You enjoy competition and are a formidable opponent. With your enthusiasm for your goal, you can be an effective leader. Just be sure to remain flexible enough to accept advice. With this aspect, you don't take criticism very well. Don't see it as a personal attack if someone suggests a better way of doing things. Remain open and you will have less resistance on your climb to the top.

With these qualities, you would do well in competitive sports, exploration, military or police work, or other "dangerous" careers. You would also do well in intellectual areas, such as medicine or law. In order to succeed in the professional world, you must learn to pay attention to details in order to avoid having to do things over to correct errors. Control your impulse to rush through projects; cover all your bases.

You have a strong sex drive and can become irritable or even violent when you have no outlet for it. If a lover does not live up to your sexual expectations, you will grow to resent them and become insensitive to their feelings. Compromise is not your strong suit anyway, and you must be especially careful about conflict situations in your personal relationships.

Jupiter square Ascendant (Strength: 1.63)

This aspect indicates that you are blessed with a fair amount of plain old good luck. This can be a wonderful asset as long as you don't always rely on luck being there when you want it. Be sure you have alternative plans just in case. You are generous with your loved ones, even to the point of being a soft touch.

Since you lack self-discipline, you are prone to indulging in excesses, and it may seem that you never do anything in a small way. If you can afford it, your home will be large and elegantly decorated. Many people with this aspect like to accumulate real estate. You will choose a career which allows you many different experiences, and you would prefer to have a job which requires you to travel.

You are willing to work hard to achieve your goals in life, and you plan on succeeding. You are good at socializing and may form friendships with influential persons. Just be sure you don't take on more than you can handle so that you are unable to fulfill promises you've made. You'd like to be successful in your parents' eyes, but in the end you ultimately have to please yourself first.

Mars square Saturn (Strength: 1.50)

This aspect indicates that you are frustrated in your attempts at success by your own lack of confidence in yourself. Since you doubt your own judgment as to when and how to assert yourself, you often delay acting until it is too late to take advantage of opportunities, or else rush the project before it is quite ready. Both of these reactions to the demands you place on yourself result in setbacks and increased self-criticism on your part.

You often feel threatened by the skill and expertise of others because you lack respect for your own abilities. You can correct this situation by finding your own area of specialization and becoming an authority in that area. If you can stay focused on any assignment, you definitely have the ability to excel. Just remember that you are your own worst critic. You must also learn to take a position firmly. Others will see your vacillation and inability to decide as weakness and/or lack of knowledge. Learn to say what you mean firmly and without room for question, especially when it comes to such words as "No!" or "Yes!"

In your career you could excel in any occupation requiring endurance and follow-through. These could include: land development, physical therapy, sports or government service. As long as you learn to stand up to your competitors and be firm, you will develop self-confidence and gain experience.

AstroIDeluxe Chart Interpretation for Salvador Dali

Romantically, you suffer greatly if you feel you have been rejected by a loved one. This can result in your becoming vindictive or even violent toward them. If you are not careful, you can hurt the very people you love the most.

Jupiter sextile Pluto (Strength: 1.39)

You have high ethical and social standards and want to achieve productive change in society. It is very difficult to hide the truth from you, despite the best of theatricals. You have an innate ability to dig through to the root of matters and have a talent for getting down to the facts.

You would do well in a career in law, medicine or psychology. These professions would make good use of your ability for intense examination and your eye for truth. Because of your high standards of character and integrity, you would be an especially good judge or legislator. You have the ability to rally others around you in order to bring about needed change.

Another of your strengths is the ability to manage large resources, such as in corporate financial transactions. This position brings with it a lot of power, and there would be little chance of your misusing it. As a matter of fact, whatever job you choose, your employees, co-workers or employers will be broadened by the experience of knowing you.

This aspect gives you a quality of spiritual knowingness that encourages others to share in a mutual obligation we all have to mankind as a whole. This is the key to choosing how to use (or abuse) power, and such is the lesson of this Jupiter sextile Pluto. With the need for expansion and growth (Jupiter) engaged with the planet of power and transformation (Pluto) in an aspect of cooperation (the sextile), there is no limit to the spiritual discoveries you can make in this lifetime.

In your love life you respond to others who are similarly inclined to strive for social change and betterment. The two of you could make a formidable team and may be settling a karmic debt by serving in this way. You constantly explore new emotions in your relationships, and you are a strong and creative lover. Your relationships improve with time as you are able to dig deeper and deeper into the life you share with your loved ones. You are not afraid of the changes life brings, for you recognize them as sources of growth.

Uranus opposite Neptune (Strength: 1.38)

This aspect has the effect of curtailing your desire to fight for the freedoms and the causes you believe in. You know that someone else will take care of fighting those battles, and you may even be glad they are doing so. But you prefer to blindly follow those leaders (religious, political, social) which you trust and not question the decisions they make or the actions they take.

It is incomprehensible to you that the leaders you trust could be manipulating you or withholding information from you. In order for you to be willing to look at such an unpleasant fact, the evidence would have to be solid and thoroughly shocking. It would take a blinding revelation of such a truth to make you angry enough to fight for your rights.

You have a somewhat pessimistic attitude about society and the world in general. When things do go wrong, you see it as a confirmation of what you had already predicted would happen. Be careful that your pessimism does not lead you to join "right-wing" organizations which are just as fanatical as the "liberal" ones you are fighting.

Venus trine Uranus (Strength: 0.81)

You enjoy life and are optimistic about your future. You express your love quietly and can see through insincerity in those around you. You are quick to make adjustments to others, and can readily recognize it when someone tries to take advantage of you.

You are willing to share your bounty with others; this positive attitude ensures that you receive a constant flow of rewards yourself. In past lives you grew to accept your responsibility toward your fellow man. You rarely are depressed or entertain negative thoughts. Instead, you are warm towards others, even when you are not feeling so well yourself.

You would be good at careers in which you could express your creativity through the arts: music, drama, design. You work well with the public because others feel comfortable around you. Children like you and find your honesty refreshing from an adult. You would also be a good teacher and could make subjects come alive for your pupils. You are quite intuitive and could utilize this gift in money matters.

You will probably have a richly satisfying marriage based on mutual honesty and understanding. Your standards will be high when choosing a partner, but you are willing to live up to his or her high standards as well. Your sexual preferences will be somewhat unconventional, and your partner must be of like mind in order for you to fully express yourself. You must be able to express yourself sexually and will not be happy with a partner who tries to limit your sexual expression. You are capable of carrying on relationships that require a great deal of freedom, such as an open marriage or long-distance romance.

Jupiter sextile Saturn (Strength: 0.20)

You are highly intelligent and well-informed and therefore are blessed with vast resources of information. Your level of comprehension is high, so that you can literally absorb information everywhere you go. It usually turns out that you find valuable uses for this information later, to everyone else's surprise.

Because of your natural abilities in planning, your chances for success are high. You are highly creative in using the multitude of resources available to you in order to achieve your goals. You pay close attention to all details when planning your strategies in life, and you are willing to work hard and wait patiently for what you want.

It is important to you that you continue to grow in life; you constantly seek new ways to do so. You are willing to try most anything once--as long as it's legal and ethical--if you think it will have a beneficial outcome. Whatever you choose to do, you will have a reputation for being honest and reliable.

You could excel in such careers as law, education, journalism, teaching, politics, or social reform. You live life by your philosophies, which include justice and true equal opportunity for all. Government corruption angers you, and you may feel compelled to do something about it. You could easily do this, because you would be sure you had gathered all necessary information and thoroughly researched the matter before attempting a confrontation.

Young children enjoy your stories about your life and about history in general. You can make the past come alive for them in a dramatic way. They can see that you are concerned about society and feel strongly about each person's responsibility as a member of the whole. Children are inspired by you, and you can offer them a different philosophical perspective while at the same time being a good academic teacher.

You set the greatest example for others by the way you live your life. There is a certain wisdom and understanding about you which attracts those who are ready to share in it with you.

Balance of Elements and Modalities

Abundant Earth

You are in touch with the real world. More than others, you know where the rubber meets the road; persistent study has shown you how to make things happen in a practical sort of way. Your nature is well-suited to the adult world of responsibilities, which you master at a young age. Not impulsive with your resources, you would only start a business after careful study, but you would manage it well. You enjoy the satisfaction that comes not just from starting projects, but from finishing them. Your steady, organized approach is actually more productive in the long-run than is that of the quick, flashy types. You know how to establish a pace and keep it.

Do not let your awareness of the material world make you unappreciative of the spiritual plane that underpins our life here -- to which others may be more sensitive than you. Practicality is fine, but try to understand that dreams, feelings, and enthusiasms are also important and should not be squelched. Others might surprise you with what their optimistic risk-taking is able to achieve. You can be so cautious and reserved that some people find you conservative and dull. If you yourself become bored or depressed, admit that security isn't everything and try to be more spontaneous. Open up to the new and follow your bliss (in a careful sort of way).

Lack of Water

For you the world of feelings may be terra incognita. Close interpersonal relations, which require the expression of feelings, and empathy for others' feelings, do not come naturally or easily for you. You have difficulty putting yourself in someone else's shoes in order to feel what they feel. You will learn how to deal with life in a tough, mental sort of way. People looking for someone to empathize with them should not come to you. Those people who are comfortable with you are not looking for emotional closeness. It's not that you don't have emotions and feelings, but they do not come out easily in your relationships. If you are an artist, they may come out in your art. You probably take refuge from the difficulty of forming emotional connections by concentrating on intellectual, practical, or inspired activity. Your best companions would be those who are able to inhabit these realms with you, but who are also in touch with their feelings. They can help you to contact your own feelings and teach you to respect and honor other people's feelings.

A lack of planets in Water signs can be offset by a Water sign ascendant or by abundant planets in the houses of Endings.

Lack of Air

Expressing yourself does not come easily to you. You distrust people who are fast, smooth talkers. It may be easier for you to express yourself nonverbally or in writing than it is through speaking. If you also lack planets in the houses of Relationships, you will find the normal avenues of communication and social learning blocked. Your thinking will be personal instead of detached or rational. With the mind's normal communication channels blocked, you learn primarily from experience. Lacking in the ability to view yourself objectively, you gain self-understanding primarily through feedback from others.

Try to see life less personally, in a more objective way. Take classes and never stop educating yourself.

A lack of planets in Air signs can be offset by an Air sign ascendant or by abundant planets in the houses of Relationships.

Abundant Relationships

With abundant planets in these houses, relationships and communications with others are likely to be central to your life. You can help others by exchanging ideas and making connections between people. You will probably maintain active contact with a wide circle of relatives, friends and acquaintances. You keep abreast of new information via various media and your friends.

Lack of Life

You could have difficulty envisioning or planning for the future. You are likely to accept the status quo, living in the past and present, but not actively striving to create the future. Lacking your own passionate goals, you are more likely to be a follower than a leader.

A lack of planets in the houses of Life can be offset by abundant planets in Fire signs.

Abundant Fixed

With an abundance of planets in Fixed signs, you have the staying power to complete a project, grow a family, or expand a business. Your strength is what friends notice most about you. You have definite values; you focus your affections on the people and things that are part of your team. Friendships formed over time are important to you. You may be found at the center of a circle of friends, a large family, a government agency, or a business. You understand the contribution that stability and security make to prosperity and growth. It throws you off-balance when friends are not as reliable as you are or when love and ideals are not part of your life. Concentrate on developing confidence in yourself, a wholesome world for your family or group, and binding others to you with love. If you have a weakness, it is trouble changing or listening when people tell you a better way to do things. You can handle this weakness by empowering your team, as among them will be individuals who are good at reacting to a constantly changing world.

Abundant Cardinal

With an abundance of planets in the Cardinal signs, you find it easy to function on your own as an autonomous individual. You have a pretty good grasp of how the real world works, which you may have acquired through your willingness to try new things. An active person, you find challenges stimulating. Success comes through big ventures that others are too intimidated to attempt. You would make a good entrepreneur, but look for other indications in your chart to see if you have the qualities needed to stay with a project or grow a business. You're not really a team player. You are likely to encounter some problems in your life as a result of being so one-sidedly focused on your own goals and activities. But you are good at overcoming problems. Personal survival is important to you and you are capable of learning. You manifest your love through a lack of fear that makes the future happen.

Lack of Mutable

With a lack of planets in the Mutable signs, you probably go your own way in life without caring too much what other people think. You know what you want and see little need to compromise. You lack flexibility and adaptability. You do best when you can establish a pace and stick to it. Leave those sports and activities that require fast reactions and adaptability to others.

Sometimes you say things that offend others, because you are not especially concerned with the feelings or opinions of others. In fact, you sometimes appall your friends with your single-mindedness and lack of sensitivity. Because of your individuality, people who are attracted to change and variety may find you stimulating at first, but after a while might find your predictability to be boring. This is unlikely to keep you from pursuing your path. Your path involves being yourself and changing the world. Just don't insist that others be like you.

A lack of planets in the Mutable signs can be offset by a Mutable sign ascendant or by abundant planets in the Cadent houses.

Abundant Cadent

An abundance of planets in the cadent houses helps to make you versatile and adaptable. You are flexible in your plans, adapting easily to changes or to the people whom you meet. You may travel a lot or move frequently. You are a good listener and communicator. You will use your mind a lot or frequently spend time alone during your life.

Abundant Succedent

An abundance of planets in the succedent houses increases your ability to enjoy life. In turn, you can give others pleasure. You are a basically stable person with strong values, feelings, and attachments. You enjoy working to build the structure of your life. As you gain confidence in your self, you bind others to you with love. You have a strong physical presence.

Lack of Angular

A lack of planets in the angular houses indicates little desire or drive for recognition. You adapt to the world instead of trying to change it or make your mark upon it. You concentrate on enjoying life and find ways to help others that do not call attention to yourself.

A lack of planets in the Angular houses can be offset by abundant planets in the Cardinal signs.
